APPE Adult Medicine PRCT 586 Gastrointestinal Therapy Management

Directions: Identify one patient with a current or with a history of a gastrointestinal disorder. This could be either an acute or chronic condition. If for some reason such a patient cannot be identified at your site, role-play with another student, health professional, or your preceptor and complete the following:

What type of condition has the patient experienced? What was the cause? How do such events occur, and what are the most common types of GI illnesses? (Question 1 of 4 - Mandatory)

What type of therapy is the patient receiving or has received in the past for management of the condition? List other treatment options for acute and chronic GI illnesses. (Question 2 of 4 - Mandatory)

What therapeutic, adverse effect, labs, or other parameters are being monitored in the patient (if applicable)? Are there other concerns? (Question 3 of 4)

Are there any changes to the patient's medication regimen that should be made based on your assessment? If so, describe your recommendations below. (Question 4 of 4)
