APPE Ambulatory Care PRCT 587 Cultural Competency Activity

Below is a list of various demographic groups, belief systems, and cultures. Pick twelve (12) groups and research the different issues, beliefs, and/or expectations related to that group that may be important for healthcare providers to understand. Consider, but do not limit yourself to, different health screening requirements, medication restrictions, communication/learning styles, acceptance and use of alternative medicines/therapies, social support networks, attitudes toward healthcare, etc.

Using the information you've learned about these groups, reflect upon the different expectations they may have for healthcare in general and for you as a pharmacist. Within your anticipated career path (i.e. community pharmacy, institutional pharmacy, residency, etc.), how do you feel this changes your role as a pharmacist? How would you adapt yourself to be a more competent provider for these cultures and/or groups?
